INCLEMENT WEATHER PLANNING 2023-2024

Dear JCSC Parents/Guardians,

Thank you for your support of our students, staff, and schools this school year! We appreciate your quick connections to our new communication platform Parent Square, helping us navigate the construction at the beginning of school successfully, and the high attendance at school events. If you have any questions or need help with Parent Square, please contact your

As we begin to prepare for possible inclement weather this upcoming winter, we would like to share some updates and planning information. Schools in Indiana are limited to three days where we may use eLearning days (teachers post assignments online and students work at their own pace at home). In addition to the three eLearning days, schools are allowed to use traditional make up days and/or live virtual learning. Live virtual learning days are days where students log in to Google Meets for classroom instruction. Schools are required to provide live teacher led instruction on these days.

Jennings County School Corporation will utilize a schedule to plan which types of days will be used if school instruction must change due to inclement weather (snow days). We would like to share that schedule with our families, so they may also be prepared in the event of the need to change instruction due to poor road conditions or snow.

JCSC Inclement Weather Planning 23-24

Day 1

eLearning Day (Students work online at their own pace, no live instruction)

Day 2

eLearning Day (Students work online at their own pace, no live instruction)

Day 3

Virtual Learning Day (Students will complete live online learning. Students must login to class times for live lessons from the teacher online.)

Day 4 and beyond

Virtual Learning Day (Students will complete live online learning. Students must login to class times for live lessons from the teacher online.)

Additional Option: JCSC may also call a traditional snow day. During this type of day, students do not complete any online work at home and instead make up the missed day on another date. If this option is needed, the first scheduled make up day used would be April 1st.

Reminder: April 8th is already a scheduled eLearning day due to the solar eclipse event locally.

Additional Information:

- eLearning Days- Students work on assignments at their own pace at home. There will be no live teacher instruction log in times required. Student attendance is counted based on work completion and teacher communication. Teachers are available for communication and support throughout the day (8:30am- 3:00pm).
- Live Virtual Learning Days- Students must log in to Google Meets for live instruction.

Elementary students: 9:00am-11:30am

JCMS: 8:30am-1:00pm (Lunch is 11:05-12:00)

JCHS: 8:30am- 12:45 pm (lunch is 11:05-12:00)

Students will work on independent assignments after live instruction. Student attendance counted based upon Google Meet attendance, assignment completion, and communication with school staff. Teachers are available throughout the day for support and instruction (8:30am- 3:00pm).

Our schools will be planning and practicing these options with our students. You will receive additional information from your child's school or teacher. If you need internet connection support, we do have hotspots available for our students. Please reach out to your child's school for hotspot requests or any questions regarding planning.

Thank you for your support and involvement in our schools. We appreciate you!

Respectfully,
Nicole Johnson
